

About

Vivesan, a powerful cleaner • degreaser with multiple applications, and Vivebloom, an agricultural growth enhancer, are both products distributed by Waterstone Ventures LLP. This privately held joint venture is a collaboration between two seasoned business associates, Al Crow and David Tiber. The corporation is based in Northeast Ohio.

Al Crow has more than 24 years' experience running a strategic tax and accounting consulting firm. He benefits from an extensive network of personal and professional contacts, and leverages those connections to promote and sell Vivesan.

David Tiber operates several business ventures in the Northeast Ohio area. With deep knowledge of operations, regulations, and process, David drives Vivesan's development and growth. He is currently the President of JL Taylor and Associates, a multi-million dollar commercial electrical contracting firm.

With an emphasis on both efficacy and safety, the unique features of Vivesan and Vivebloom products appeal to many markets, including industrial and retail consumers. Waterstone Ventures is well-positioned for explosive growth over the immediate 12-24 months by supplying products that will supersede the use of conventional, petroleum-based chemicals.
